LECTURE I - INTRODUCTION TO GAL (NOTION AND MATERIAL SCOPE)

1. Dimensions of Global Administrative Law

dualistic (not: multilevel!)

unitary

Global vs International

non-primary role of States

2. LACK OF CONSTITUTION

3. THE ROLE OF GLOBAL REGULATORY REGIMES

✓ Global regulatory regimes include: standardization and food safety, internet governance, migration, trade, postal services, outer space management, education, water regulation, environmental matters and MANY more...

✓ There are 4 basic types of global regulators →

✓ Main features of global regulatory regimes:

- (1) Developing
- (2) Composite
- (3) Diversification

(1) Formal treaty based international and intergovernmental organizations	WTO, UN, WHO
(2) Transnational networks of domestic regulatory officials	The Basel Committee on Banking Supervision
(3) Private regulatory bodies	Sport associations/federations, the Society for Worldwide Interbank Financial Telecommunication
(4) Hybrid (public-private) bodies	The World Anti-Doping Agency, the Global Fund to Fight Aids

3. THE ROLE OF GLOBAL REGULATORY REGIMES

Main features of global regulatory regimes:

(4) Lack of global executives and enforcement powers

(5) Hybridism

(6) Indirect

(7) Voluntary compliance

4. RULE OF LAW?

Is it justified to say that there is a global democracy today? Or global values that shall be protected regardless of national, or even international regulations? If so, who decides? Who shall execute it?

5. DEVELOPMENT MECHANISMS

What UNESCO, Olympic Games and radioactive waste management have in common?

6. THE STUDY OF GAL – CHALLENGES

All juridical science is necessarily international and universal – Raymond Saleilles (1904)

[GAL] is not yet a system that can be called law in the traditional sense of the word – Jan Zimmermann (2013)

There is one system of law in each State – Jan Zimmermann (2019)
